Your Life Speaks: The Story of Nathan Harmon

Submitted by Eminence High School Publications student Dawson Kinnard

“Nathan has learned that talk is always cheap when compared to someone taking action and letting their life choices do the speaking!”

This is the message of the Your Life Speaks movement. Nathan Harmon is a motivational speaker that travels around the world to spread his message, Your Life Speaks.

He has had to overcome many hardships in his life, including drug addictions, eating disorders, and drinking. Out of all this Nathan has risen from the ashes and made a new life for himself. He went from being incarcerated to speaking in schools across the nation and around the world.

You can contact him either on his website or on his social media.
